

OPEN CALL

Kunstenfestivaldesarts is looking for:

Graphic designer(s) / a new visual identity

The Kunstenfestivaldesarts is an annual festival for contemporary creation of theatre, dance, performance, visual arts... in Brussels. On several locations and together with different cultural / urban partners, the festival gathers people around local and international (artistic) projects.

The Kunstenfestivaldesarts is looking for (a) graphic designer(s) familiar with creating a visual identity and applying it on printed and online media. Also relevant: knowledge of production methods and prepress, apprehension of Dutch, French and English, some feeling with the city of Brussels.

The festival's visual identity gives expression to its missions and objectives in a powerful, recognisable and durable way. It is also intrinsically related to the city of Brussels and used for different means of trilingual communication: programme book, posters, flyer, website... The new visual identity will be developed for the following editions of the festival.

Are you interested and available? Send a selection of your work (including a publication, poster and website), a CV and a short motivation letter to mats@kfda.be, at the latest on October 23. We will make a selection from the submissions received, after which you will be contacted soon.
