

École du soir / The Poet School

Christian Nyampeta

Call for participants

École du soir / The Poet School is a study programme about writing and visualising intellectual histories, drawing from the intertwined histories of the wider region of Rwanda, Central Africa and Belgium. Starting from sources that are often marginalised in the making of History – such as philosophical texts, songs, poems or fragments of movies – the programme opens a practice of collective translation and making of timelines, as ways of reflection and transmission. With a first encounter in May 2019, École du soir / The Poet School is structured through occasional evening encounters extending over a period of one year, until May 2020.
